

Day of the dead in Mexico!

Come on down to our festival,
Come on down - don't be afraid,
Taste our white fondant, icing coated sugar skulls and our freshly baked bread, And yes, you will see marigold petals galore on the streets of Mexico

And you will find we make generous offerings to our beloved dead,
And if you think your hot chocolate isn't hot enough, then say no more, just add chilli powder to bring out the full taste, make your tongue sizzle,

Or you can bake bread big or small,
Or you can bake bread big or small,
Our creative face paints will scare you out of your underwear, Our festival brings people together as one family,
So come on down to our day of the dead festival,
Come on down, don't be afraid!

Isabel